

Arabian Cement Company Continues Supporting “Dream Building”

Arabian Cement Company (ACC) recently participated in an event hosted by Hope Village Society to showcase current progress of their development.

ACC has been supporting Hope Village Society to develop its “Dream Building” project since 2010. Among others, Hope Village Society initiatives include securing shelter to more than 300 orphans through its properties across Cairo, 10th of Ramadan and Alexandria. The Dream Building project aims at serving as an integrated shelter for all the Hope Village orphans. As such, ACC is collaborating with Hope Village by providing it with the cement needed to complete its project.

ACC has donated 300 tons of cement to the Dream Building project, and is planning to donate over 65 more tons in the near future. To date, over 40% of the project has been completed, and ACC will continue its support until the entire development is complete. ACC will also continue its support for Hope Village Society initiatives, aiming to deliver a better future for Egyptian children.

Arabian Cement Company (ACC) was first established in 1997 by a group of Egyptian entrepreneurs. The cement factory is located in the Suez Governorate. It produces five million tons of first quality cement, approximately 10% of Egypt’s production. □
